

Dacheca Daniel # 1

It costs $ 350 per year or $30 per month a year or $ 30 per month to help make a positive change in the life of Dacheca Daniel.

Dacheca is 17 years old and in her junior year in high school. She is the sixth child of a family of eight children. All eight children are being raised by their widow mother. She had to take charge after the death of her husband almost 10 years ago.

Since her dad's death, her mother was able to sustain the family to the best of her ability with her peanut butter business. It has been difficult for her and sometimes some of the siblings were forced to stay at home just because they could not afford school tuition.

VAH (Volition and Action Haiti) through your faithful monetary contribution was able to send Dacheca to school for the past five years. She will start her senior year in High school this coming school year.

She has been a great student and dreams of a better future for herself and her family. After high school, she wants to become a nurse.

Dacheca, as one of the oldest children in the VAH education program, has become a mentor for the youngest ones. She helps them with their homework, and she becomes a role model for them to follow. She is a notable example of why our education program works.

Dacheca has always been an immense help to her family. She also helps at home with cleaning, cooking, and just by being good.

Dacheca is anxiously waiting for a sponsor to finish her last year in High School. Your decision to help support her will provide opportunities for her to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Your sponsorship commitment will help Dacheca, and her community grow hope for the future. It will help pay her school tuition and buy school supplies, backpacks, and uniforms. This will also help her local school to pay their schoolteachers and school administrators and provide quality education to all kids.

There are so many needs in this family, including the need for food, housing, clothing, shoes, etc. Surely, your contribution will bring a positive influence on Dacheca's life, her family, and indeed, the entire community cannot be underestimated. Your sponsorship and prayers will bring joy and happiness to Dacheca and will allow her to continue her education.

Loudjina Charles # 2

It costs $ 350 per year or $30 per month or $30 to help make a positive change in the life of Loudjina Charles.

Loudjina is growing up in a small village called Cité Leonce in the North Part of Haiti. In this area, houses are made of mud bricks and hay roofs. As the soil is fertile, people use agriculture as the main way of living. Though this area is known to be an agricultural area, farmers' lack of access to larger markets and improved methods or tools causes them to struggle to produce enough food to feed their families. Sometimes, they lack storage systems to store their harvest. Harvests become rotten amazingly fast and wasted.

Loudjina is the third child of a family of four. Yirana, Midelle, and Samie-Love are her sisters.

In this area, early pregnancy, and poor nutrition knowledge on parents' parts cause children to suffer from preventable diseases.

Loudjina is a 13-year-old girl living with her mother. This family life took a tragic turn after the sudden death of Samie's father when she was only 5 years old. Every young girl dream of growing up with a father figure to protect and provide for the family. In the area where Loudjina is growing up, there is little accountability for child protection systems, so children who face abuse or neglect do not have anywhere to turn and are not well-educated about their rights.

When Loudjina's dad, the breadwinner, died, her mother Lourdes Charles tried many things to sustain her family. She buys and resells agricultural commodities to people in her community. She cut men's and women's hair. She cleans houses and she is also a seamstress. She is a powerful woman with hope for a better future. She also transfers that same value to her daughter.

Having her daughter in the VAH education program means a lot to her. This program provides a safe environment for Loudjina to be and become who she is meant to be.

Loudjina enjoys going to school. She is now in eighth grade. She likes to sing, and she wants to become an entrepreneur.

She also helps at home with cleaning, cooking, and just by being good.

Loudjina is anxiously waiting for a sponsor. Your decision to help support her will provide opportunities for her to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Your sponsorship commitment will help Loudjina, and her community grow hope for the future. It will help pay her school tuition and buy school supplies, backpacks, and uniforms. This will also help her local school to pay their schoolteachers and school administrators and provide quality education to all kids.

There are so many needs in this family, including the need for food, housing, clothing, shoes, etc. Surely, your contribution will bring a positive influence on Loudjina's life, her family, and indeed, the entire community cannot be underestimated. Your sponsorship and prayers will bring joy and happiness to Loudjina and will allow her to continue her education.

Rose Berline is 10 years old. She lives in the community of North Plain in Haiti with her family. She is the oldest of a family of three children. Loutchina and Choumica Rochenel are her two younger sisters.

She goes to school at a local school called: Ecole Evangélique Nouvelle Jérusalem. She loves school and she is currently in third grade. We welcome her to the VAH education program when she was only 6 years old.

Rose Berline lives with both parents. Her father Francois Rochenel is by profession a farmer. However, due to constant floods that destroy people's crops and lack of crop insurance, Francois cannot rely too much upon agriculture and often does any other type of job to sustain his family financially. Her mother, Valcin Rose Carmelle is an agricultural street vendor. Her little business activity also helps sustain the family financially as well. She is one of the family VAH has helped finance her small business venture.

Rose is passionate about singing. Her dream is to become a nurse. She told us, « When my mom and my sisters have typhoid fevers, they cannot go to the hospital because we have no money to pay for medication. They stay at home and cry and endure the pain. It broke my heart to see my sisters and my mother suffer. When I become a nurse, I can heal them for free. »

Rose Berline also enjoys helping her mother with cooking and cleaning.

Rose Berline is anxiously waiting for a sponsor. Your decision to help support Rose will provide opportunities for her to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Your monetary contribution will help her to pay her school tuition, and buy school supplies, backpacks, and uniforms. This will also help her local school to pay their schoolteachers and school administrators.

There are so many needs in this family, including the need for food, housing, clothing, shoes, etc. Surely, your contribution will bring a positive influence on Rose's life, her family, and indeed, the entire community cannot be underestimated. Chrisnaidine Liberal # 5

It costs $ 350 per year or $30 per month a year or $ 30 to help make a positive change in the life of Chrisnaidine Liberal Chrisnaidine is a sweet 11-year girl living in the North Plain of Haiti. She is the oldest of a family of two. Rebecca Joseph is a half-sister. Chrisnaidine's family turned upside down after an unexpected divorce between her parents which forced her to be separated from her mother. Her father is a construction worker. Due to the elevated level of unemployment rate in Haiti, it is hard for him to find regular employment. In addition, he was a victim of multiple accidents in his line of work which limit him from performing hard physical labor.

Last year, Chrisnaidine as a young kid wrote us a letter expressing that her dad was not able to pay for her school tuition and she was obligated to stay at home. Her letter was so moving that we decided that we were going to welcome her into our education program with the hope that generous people like you would help us sponsor her.

Chrisnaidine is a very humble child. She loves to draw and dance. She would like to become a doctor someday to help her dad and other people with health issues.

Her dream of being a doctor can only be possible if you decide to sponsor her. Imagine the emotion you will get from being the family who helps Chrisnaidine achieve her dream.

She also helps at home with cleaning, cooking, and just by being a good child.

Chrisnaidine is anxiously waiting for a sponsor. Your decision to help support her will provide opportunities for her to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Your sponsorship commitment will help Chrisnaidine, and her community grow hope for the future. It will help pay her school tuition and buy school supplies, backpacks, and uniforms. This will also help her local school to pay their schoolteachers and school administrators and provide quality education to all kids.

There are so many needs in this family, including the need for food, housing, clothing, shoes, etc. Surely, your contribution will bring a positive influence on Chrisnaidine's life, her family, and indeed, the entire community cannot be underestimated. Joseph Serge Markel # 6

It costs $ 350 per year or $30 per month a year or $30 to help make a positive change in the life of Joseph Serge Markel

Serge is an intelligent young man living in a small village in the Northern part of Haiti. Serge is 9 years old, and he is in third grade. He is the third child of a family of six.

Serge is growing up with a single parent in one of the poorest regions in Northern, Haiti. People there make their living growing crops and raising livestock. But, because of flood and other natural disasters, farmers are being discouraged and abandoning their land to find other means to survive.

About seven to ten people live below the poverty line, and families struggle to grow enough food year-round. Kids are malnourished because families are not well trained in healthy cooking and nutrition.

Because of the lack of money, many children never attend school, and some are forced to abandon school.

His mother often struggles to take care of her six children. She tried many activities to generate income to take care of her family. But some days he had to beg for food and money on the street. Some days, the entire family must go to bed hungry.

Serge's mother has had many health issues that limit her ability to fully provide and take care of her children.

Serge is a very smart young man. He has always been the first in his class. He cares a lot about his friends. He dreams of becoming a doctor someday to care for his sick mother.

Serge is a very energetic young man. He helps his parents at home by running errands. He loves to draw and play soccer.

Your sponsorship commitment will help Serge and his family access opportunities to help lift themselves out of poverty. Your decision to help support him will provide opportunities for him to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Priceline Bazile # 9

It costs $ 350 per year or $30 per month to help make a positive change in the life of Bazile Priceline

Priceline is 14 years old, and she is in fifth grade. He is the fourth child of a family of seven.

Priceline is growing up in one of the poorest regions in Northern, Haiti. About seven to ten people live below the poverty line, and families struggle to grow enough food year-round. Because of the lack of money, many children never attend school, and some are forced to abandon school. This is the case for Priceline. While many children start school early, Priceline started to go to school at age 8 thanks to their VAH partner. Even though she is always the oldest in her class and got bullied by her peers, she never got discouraged. She was hungry for education and now she is enjoying every school day to the fullest.

In the area where Priceline grows up. Children and families do not have clean water sources, they do not have good hygiene practices like handwashing, and do not have sanitation facilities like latrines-all of which make them vulnerable to preventable diseases. Because there is no child protection system in this community, children, mostly, young girls are vulnerable to exploitation and abuse, since the region has no child protection systems.

Priceline's father and mother were street vendors and try their best every day to help support their family. However, what they generate as income is far from being enough to sustain a family of nine. Only two of Priceline's siblings including himself can go to school.

Priceline enjoys cooking and helping others. Her dream is to become a nurse.

Priceline is anxiously waiting for a sponsor. Your decision to help support her will provide opportunities for her to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Nicka Valbrun # 17

It costs $ 350 per year or $30 per month to help make a positive change in the life of Nicka Valbrun.

Nicka is growing up in a dry region in Northern Haiti. Even though agriculture is the main activity that can provide enough resources for people living in this community to survive, factors like natural disasters or poor seed quality hold farmers back. Farmers in the dry season are obligated to migrate to another part of the country to find work. Due to the prominent level of unemployment in Haiti, these people after traveling far from home to find work ended up with no jobs. Because this area is so remote, most people do not have access to basic social services. Children to go to school must walk 8 to 10 miles.

Nicka is 14 years old, and she is in ninth grade. She is the first child of a family of two children. She lives with both parents.

VAH (Volition and Action Haiti) through your faithful monetary contribution was able to send Nicka to school for the past 3 years

She has been a great student and dreams of a better future for herself and her family. Her dream is to become a doctor.

Nicka, as one of the oldest children in the VAH education program, has become a mentor for the youngest ones. She helps them with their homework, and she becomes a role model for them to follow. She is a fitting example of why our education program works.

Nicka has always been a major help to her family. She also helps at home with cleaning, cooking, and just by being good.

Nicka is anxiously waiting for a sponsor. Your decision to help support her will provide opportunities for her to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Your sponsorship commitment will help Nicka, and her community grow hope for the future. It will help pay her school tuition and buy school supplies, backpacks, and uniforms. This will also help her local school to pay their schoolteachers and school administrators and provide quality education to all kids.

There are so many needs in this family, including the need for food, housing, clothing, shoes, etc. Surely, your contribution will bring a positive influence on Anne's life, her family, and indeed, the entire community cannot be underestimated. Your sponsorship and prayers will bring joy and happiness to Nicka and will allow her to continue her education.

Wildania Jean-Baptiste # 41

It costs $ 350 per year or $30 per month to help make a positive change in the life of Wildania Jean-Baptiste.

Today, third grader Wildania is on the path to lifelong learning. Thanks to the sponsors provided through your partnership with VAH, Wildania has great hope for success in the classroom and in life. But that is not how her journey started out.

Wildania is the youngest child of a family of four. In the community where she lives, most families do not have enough to eat, and children often go to bed hungry. Living in extreme poverty, boys and girls oftentimes struggle to learn in school. Most of the time, they lack the support they need to do their best. They are excluded from the rest of society as if they are not human beings. However, it is fascinating to observe children like Wildania who, despite their situation, would share a deep and overwhelming desire to succeed. We admire their courage, and we know that, together, we can change the future for children like Wildania by providing the tools they need to thrive.

Wildania used to be a very shy and introverted young girl during the first year of her participation in our education program. She was too shy to make friends. Her self-esteem was low, and she did not believe that anything good could happen to someone like her and her family. But after just three years, she transforms into the most energetic and enthusiastic child ever. Her smile, her dedication, and her desire for happiness are very contagious.

Wildania loves to dance and sing. She would like to become a nurse.

Wildania lives with her mother who is being sick regularly. It is extremely hard for the family to make ends meet and cannot afford tuition and school supplies for children.

Wildania is anxiously waiting for a sponsor. Your decision to help support her will provide opportunities for her to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Your contribution will help to pay her school tuition and buy school supplies, backpacks, and uniforms. This will also help her local school to pay their schoolteachers and school administrators.

There are so many needs in this family, including the need for food, housing, clothing, shoes, etc. Surely, your contribution will bring a positive influence on Wildania's life, her family, and indeed, the entire community cannot be underestimated. Your sponsorship and prayers will bring joy and happiness to her and will allow her to continue her education.

Dabentz Duval's Information #42

It costs $ 350 per year or $30 per month to help make a positive change in the life Dabentz Duval

In the rural farming region near Cap-Haitien, Haiti, it is common for children to be forced to leave school so they can help support their families. Dabentz and his three other siblings, as early as age 5 started to work as a laborer with their father and did not see any opportunity to start school. When a VAH (Volition and Action Haiti) team member learned of Dabentz, his brothers and sister's situation, and their desire to go to school, he visited Dabentz home and talked to Dabentz's father about our sponsored program.

As farming is becoming increasingly difficult due to dryness, or other natural disasters like floods, and hurricanes, farmers are on the lookout for something better to do and another opportunity for their children. Therefore, Dabentz's family agreed to help him and his siblings to join our program.

Dabentz and his siblings are in school now. They are doing great and are incredibly happy. They are learning how to start, manage and finance their own start-up business. They are working on their business plan to qualify for the VAH microloan program so they can begin their own farming business. By combining farming skills from their father and the knowledge they are acquiring from school, I am sure these siblings will eventually have what it takes to launch their very first business venture.

Dabentz needs your monetary contribution to keep sponsoring his schooling. Your decision to help support him will provide him the opportunities to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Your contribution will help pay his school tuition and buy school supplies, backpacks, and uniforms. This will also help his local school to pay their schoolteachers and school administrators.

There are so many needs in this family, including the need for food, housing, clothing, shoes, etc. Surely, your contribution will bring a positive influence on Dabentz's life, her family, and indeed, the entire community cannot be underestimated. Your sponsorship and prayers will bring joy and happiness to him and will allow him to continue her education.

Ostely Fils-Aimé # 44

It costs $ 350 per year or $30 per month to help make a positive change in the life of Ostely Fils-Aimé

Ostely is 13 years old, and she is in sixth grade. He is the oldest child of a family of two.

Ostely is growing up in one of the poorest regions in Northern, Haiti. About seven to ten people live below the poverty line, and families struggle to grow enough food year-round. Because of the lack of money, many children never attend school, and some are forced to abandon school. Thanks to VAH (Volition and Action Haiti) partner, we were able to send him to school. He was hungry for education and now she is enjoying every school day to the fullest.

In the area where Ostely grows up. Children and families do not have clean water sources, they do not have good hygiene practices like handwashing, and do not have sanitation facilities like latrines-all of which make them vulnerable to preventable diseases. Because there is no child protection system in this community, children are vulnerable to exploitation and abuse since the region has no child protection systems.

Ostely is being raised by a single mom. She used to own her own business at home until her house accidentally burnt to the ground and she lost everything she owned. Her and her children, fortunately, survived the event. But she was left with no jobs and no financial means to start over. Ostely and his mom spent a couple of years sleeping in other people's homes. Now, they live in a broken one-bedroom home constructed with mud and a broken rooftop.

Ostely enjoys playing soccer and musical instruments. He also helps at home with cooking and cleaning. He would like to become a musician.

Ostely is anxiously waiting for a sponsor. Your decision to help support him will provide him the opportunity to learn and grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. Your sponsorship commitment will help him and his community to grow great hope for the future. It will help pay his school tuition and buy school supplies, backpacks, and uniforms. This will also help his local school to pay their schoolteachers and school administrators and provide quality education to all kids.

There are so many needs in this family, including the need for food, housing, clothing, shoes, etc. Surely, your contribution will bring a positive influence on Ostely's life, his family, and indeed, the entire community cannot be underestimated. Your sponsorship and prayers will bring joy and happiness to him and will allow him to continue his education.
